

CHALLENGE

Odd Socks!

Hide one sock from each pair around the house.

Give your child one sock at a time to go and find the matching one.

When you have found them all, lay them out on the floor.

How many socks have you found? How many pairs of socks? Can you sort them by colour or size?

Noughts and Crosses

You could play this the traditional way...or you could make a large scale version with string/wool/tape/canes and play it outside. We had a try at this in my house, and decided to use cups and bowls instead of noughts and crosses. I can't wait to see what you use!
